

Family Diversity Day In the park

Everyone is invited to participate in Diversity Day on Sunday, May 21 from 11 to 3 at Gallup Park, Ann Arbor. Park location is off of Geddes Road by the Butterfly Garden.

Forty-five giant banners will depict how diversity enhances our lives.

The art is done by local artists as well as artists from all over the world.

Entertainment starting at 1 will feature student choirs, student bands and dance teams.

Local artists will be introduced and Best in Show winners will be honored.

Exciting and interesting booths done by many local organizations will offer children different activities and crafts to try.
